A MIRACLE-HEALER

Own Homes.

The Medical World has been startled by the wooderful cures effected by Professor Thomas F. Addin, a distinguished selentist, who is devoting his life to the relief of suffering humanity. People in the last stages of consumption; men and women living in constant dread of death from Bright's Disease, Blood Poisoning, Canser. Dropsy, Heart Presse and other dangerous allments, have been restored to health by the treatment of this wonderful man, after every known remedy and sources of eminent opecialists had been tried in vain.

Not in the history of Medical Science have many startling cures been recorded. So many startling cures been recorded. So marvelous has been his success in healing all kinds of disease that his ratients call him a Miracle Healer, a man of Supernatural Powers, a Physician with the key to the Fountain of Youth; yet Professor Adkin declares there is nothing wonderful about his ability to cure disease, and says that he cures simply because he "understands nature."

A reporter called upon Professor Adkin a few weeks ago. He found a man of commanding figure, whose personality was masterful and refreshine. His eyes, though full of kindliness, seemed to penetrate ones very thoughts, what his every act and every word spoke of honesty and consideration of others. He is clearly a man of wonderful force of character.

He said: "I cannot attempt to tell you what my treatment is, which I call 'Vitacpathy.' In these days of quackery and fakes, every advance in science is imitated by a score of ignorant charjatans, who pretend to have mastered its 'details. Were I to attempt to expiain to you for publication the practice of Vitacpathy, without discussing its every phase, which I have not time to do, there would be a dozen unscrupulous persons pretending to understand its use before the publication had been out a week. Vitacpathy is not Christian Science; it is not Hypnotism nor Divine Healing. It is not Hypnotism nor Divine Healing. It is infinitely more thorough and far-reaching than any of them.

"Vitacpathy is a subtle force of nature, regulating the intellectual and spiritual being which controls the physical man. It puts the system in a receptive condition, which enables the body to receive the full benefit of my Vitacpathic vegetable remedies, which are used in combination with it. "It is true that this new treatment is every day making wonderful cures. It has cured various organic troubles, which had brought the sufferers to death's door. And here let me ask you to announce to all the readers of your paper that I stand ready at any time to give the benefit of my experience to any one who is in need of help. I will gliadly make a complete diagnosis of the case of any one who is in poor health, and I will preseribe a thorough course of home treatment free of cost, which I positively guarantee to cure. Especially do I make this offer to those who are afflicted with dangerous disease, and have been treated by other methods without avail. If there are any who are in the grip of Consumption, Blood Poison, Bright's Disease; if any of your readers are suffering from constant Headache. Dyspepsia, S

I am willing to give this service to all who will put themselves in my hands, without a penny of charge, feeling that, having be an olessed with the ability to cure diseases when others fail, it is my duty to help those who cannot help themselves."

Professor Adkin showed the reporter scores of letters from Doctors, Clergymen, Statesmen, Educators College Professors, Lawyers and others high in life, who have been cured by Vitaopathy, as well as letters from many men and women from all walks of life who availed themselves of his free offer of help, and the reporter left with a strange feeling of encouragement, believing that he had met the most wonderful man of the age.

I coughed day and night; I was in continuous pain; I had tried so many kinds of treatment without benefit, that I had given un all hope. By chance I learned of a woman whom you had cured after the doctors had given her up to die, and I wrote for your free help. That was one month ago. To-day I am a well woman. I cannot understand it. My friends are amazed. My family physician is puzzled, I wish I could go out and troclaim the virtues of your marvelous treatment from the housetops. You may use this letter as you please. NORRIS GREGG MAY GET STAFF PLACE, Slated for Director of Concessions and Admissions of the World's Fair.

Norris B. Gregg may soon be designated Director of Concessions and Admissions of the World's Fair. He has been acting in this capacity for several days and it is understood that his formal appointment waits merely upon his acceptance of the position. As Director of Concessions and Admissions Mr. Gregg would become one of the four co-ordinate executive heads of the Exposition. His connection heretofore with the active preparations for the Fair has been as chairman of the Supplies Committee of the chairman of the Supplies Committee of the Exposition. Under the new arrangement quarters have been assigned to him opposite those of Director of Exhibits Skiff. Stenographers have been permanently transferred to his jurisdiction and he has been engaged since last Friday in giving audiences to applicants for concessions. Inquiry at the executive offices of the company brought out the fact that Mr. Gregg was acting with all the powers of Director of Concessions and would hold the office, tentatively, until the matter of appointment had been finally taken up by the Executive Committee. It was intunated that the Committee was not in a position to definitely announce its selection for the position and might not be for some time.

It has been conceded by the Executives of the Exposition that the mantle of the Director of Concessions would fall on a St. Louisan. Applicants for the post from outside cities have been informed that there was no vacancy, the office having been filled. The difficulty confronting President Francis in securing a St. Louisan for the place has been the unwillingness of those who have been offered the office to devote to it their exclusive time for more than a year. devote to it their exclusive time for more than a year.

Refusal of Thomas Hitchcock to Surrender Box at Opera Agitates Committee.

PRECEDENTS ARE LACKING.

Doubt Exists at New York Whether Federal or City Authorities or Private Citizens Are to Be Hosts of Royalty.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

New York, Feb. 1.—The Committee of Five in charge of the gaia opera performance for Prince Henry met at the Chamber of Commerce at noon.

A subcommittee was appointed to call on Thomas Hitchcock to settle the controversy arising out of his refusal to surrender his box for use of the Prince and his party. Maurice Grau, manager of the Metropolitan Opera-house, declared this morning that Thomas Hitchcock was no longer a factor in the plans of Mayor Low's committee for the entertainment of Prince Henry of Prussia. Another box, which Mr. Grau says is as good as Mr. Hitchcock's, has been placed at the disposal of the committee, and will be used.

Former Diplomat's Ideas. A gentleman well known in business circles in this city and who occupied an important diplomatic position in London dur-ing the Queen's jubilee, speaking to-day of the tangle concerning the "royal" box,

"It seems to me that a good deal of un necessary fuss is being made over this matter, largely through ignorance of what is necessary and requisite for the entertainment of his Royal Highness.

"It is not necessary to have such a large royal box as some of our distinguished citizens want to provide for Prince Henry. It is not customary on such occasions in Europe to accommodate in the royal box the entire retinue of the royal personage who is being entertained, but only his relatives who may be with him and his immediate personal equerry, or some such high functionary.

"But in London, at the Queen's Jubilee, on the occasion of the performance at the opera-house, some, if not most, of the special diplomati; military and naval repre-sentatives of this country to the jubilee had to pay for their seats. Mine cost me, if I renember correctly, 10 guineas ($52.50) and General Miles, I was told, had to pay the same for his seat, although the Prince of Wales (now King) sent for him to come to his own box during the evening so that he

No Need for Any Difficulty. "If course, there is well-established precedent in Europe to govern on such occasions, but, nevertheless, it does not seem to me that there need be any difficulty here over so simple a matter as the selection of a box for his Royal Highness. There is some precedent here to guide those who are running this royal show.

"But one thing ought to be clearly established, and that is whether Prince Henry's visit to and stay in this city is to be under he auspices and direction of the Federal authorities, the State authorities or the municipal government; or whether he is to be the guest of and charge of several emi-nent private citizens while here. "If the last is to be the case, then no one except those eminent private citizens need concern themselves about the matter. It should be remembered that Prince Henry is at least a gentleman and is entitled to be treated as one. If any of our own eminent box-owners want to display their antipathy to royalty, 'snips' or otherwise, they might with better taste choose some other occasion than the present one. On general principles, no doubt, their views as an abstract proposition will meet with general approval in this Republic, but republicans of the most democratic tastes must be expected to have the instincts and tastes of gentlemen and not offend les convenances."

The expenses of the reception and enter-tainment of Prince Henry of Prussia are to be met by private subscription, and committee on Finance, named by the Ex ecutive Committee in charge of the arrangements, is now at work in discussing methods and means of raising the money needed. No decision has been arrived a thus far, but at a meeting of the Commit tee on Finance, which will be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday, it is likely that a definite plan will be approved.

Fears American Enterprise. Professor Ernest Von Halle, who, with

Triard Schwartze, visits the United States to study ship-building, in behalf of the German Marine Ministry, writes to to-day's Woche, advocating some sort of governmental measure to prevent Americans from acquiring German steamship lines. Among the suggestions is that the lines be cf-ficered by Government officials, the owner-ship remaining in private hands, as in the ship remaining in private names, as in the case of the Heichsbank, or making the ownership of such stock unlawful for nongermans. He points out the difficulty nongermans buying the companies of the Government's buying the companies of the Governments suring the companies outright, as it would involve the acquisition of property at ports all over the world, which might lead to complications. Professor you Halle says that, as a result of his inquiries, he does not believe Amerleans have bought much German steam ship stock, because the Boers' transactions therein in 1901 were few. Professor von Halle believes it is theoretically possible for Americans to buy the majority of the stock of German companies, elect new boards of directors and transfer the general officers abroad, but he says German nciers do not believe the Morgan group of capitalists possess such irresistible capital as outsiders imagine, and asserts that the seemingly gigantic capital of the United States is so strongly watered that it might disappear in times of crisis.

The nonagrarian supporters of the measure say that agrarian majority has gravely enexcessive demands. The votes in favor of certificates of origin and the application of foreign customs regulations and duties against States treating Germany unfairly place the Government in an extremely unleasant dilemma,after the solemn of the Imperial Secretary of State for the Interior, Count von Posadowsky-Wehner, Much curiosity now exists regarding the Government's future attitude. They Are St. Louis People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. Bo many strange occurrences go the round of the press—are published as facts—people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.
